“We had great applicants this year,” said Jennifer McDonald, executive director of the Economic Development Authority. “It was hard to choose. But, I think we selected some great businesses for the awards. We want our small business community to know how much we value their hard work and dedication.”

The Award program was designed in 2011 in observance of Virginia’s Business Appreciation Month. There are three cash grants that are made to local small businesses showing excellence in business practices and contributing to the community in some way.

Small business owners or operators of businesses that are licensed in the Town of Front Royal or Warren County are eligible, and will have completed an online application at EDA’s web site, www.wceda.com. Small businesses are those with less than 500 employees (as defined by the Commonwealth of Virginia).

A panel comprised of EDA staff and board members and President of the Chamber judged the applications. Three prizes will be awarded in the amounts of $1,000, $750 and $500 in the upcoming week.

“This is great,” said Craig Laird of The Vine and Leaf. “This will help us a lot to make improvements at our bistro.”
