

James Wolfe

Mr. Wolfe is an educator, management executive, and attorney who has spent more than 40 years assisting entrepreneurs. Jim serves as the Entrepreneur in Residence and Associate Professor of Management at the George Mason University School of Business, where he teaches courses in strategy, entrepreneurship, and management consulting. He also serves as CEO of Founders Consulting, a Washington, DC firm specializing in strategic marketing. Jim is a director of the Northern Virginia 4-H Educational and Conference Center, FirstGuard Technologies Corporation, and is a past director of Millennium Bank. Previously he was the chief financial officer of the Indiana University Foundation, and earlier served as Legislative Director for U.S. Senator Dan Quayle (R.-Ind.). He holds the J.D., M.B.A. and B.S. degrees, all from Indiana University.